Today's Action: Buy Pizza for Your Local Fire or Police Station

FACT:

Police, firefighters and other first responders are always on the front lines, but during the Covid-19 crisis, they are even more at risk.

ACTION:

1. To find your local station, you can either google it or call you city or town's police or fire department.
2. Call the station and explain that you are part of a new nonprofit called 1 Good Thing Today that is doing things to support those on the front lines during the crisis.
3. Share that you would like to buy pizzas for the station for lunch or dinner. Ask them for the name and phone number for their favorite local pizza shop (they will know it!), how many pizzas would they need to feed the shift and what kind of toppings.
4. Tell them that to make sure they are kept safe you would prefer that they send someone from the station to pick up the pizzas.

They will be forever grateful.
